Guild 'Handmade Rose' is available as a complete stationery suite or mix and match with Guild Bow to create truly memorable stationery that will 'Wow' your guests.

Invitations

Depending upon your chosen design our invitations come with bespoke high quality printing as standard on stunning board stock and softly textured bespoke lidded presentation boxes or envelopes.

Those designs in presentation boxes can have sumptuous, wide, colour coordinated satin hand-tied bow tied around the presentation box and then be 'hand delivered' or mailed in a mailing outer.

Personalisation is available for your invitations with your guests' names professionally printed for your convenience.

We stock a wide range of Swarovski crystal diamantes and these are the perfect finishing touches to your stationery—we add up to two free of charge.

All text is proofed via email and send a 'hard-copy' invitation proof so you can be confident of the quality and beauty of your stationery.

'Evening' invitations can be produced to match your day invitations exactly or alternatively a double layered, 'Guild' style flat-board invitations simply embellished with a hand-tied bow or Swarovski crystals makes for a beautiful coordinating cost effective option.

RSVP's

We produce our double layered RSVP's as a smaller version of the invitations but without the embellishment. They neatly slide in behind the invitation tucked into the band of ribbon that runs around the invitation. Each RSVP comes with a high quality white envelope pre-printed with the RSVP address.

A coordinating satin 'skinny ribbon' tie holds the RSVP to its envelope and the RSVP can be further embellished with crystals or other bespoke design details.

Whilst the above information accurately describes this range we always throw invention and imagination into the mix. If you want wallets or pockets, gatefolds or free-standing invitations then just tell us and let us get to work.

Information Cards or Sheets

The information clients wish to include with their invitations varies enormously in content and volume. For some, a small map and directions might be enough, for others a welcoming message, accommodation information, itinerary, dress code etc is an important part of their invitation package.

We coordinate the information cards or sheets to sit beautifully with the invitation in the form of a double layered card with contrast mount, a duplexed (double thickness) card with information on both sides or a tri-fold 'leaflet' style sheet in beautiful, coordinating paper with the potential to hold a lot of important details.

Gift Cards

If you would like to include a particular wedding list card with your invitation or alternatively design for you a coordinating mini-card indicating a gift list held with a particular shop or charity we are happy to oblige.

Orders of Service / Ceremony

The quantity of information required in these essential booklets can vary enormously from wedding to wedding. Most frequently, we advise an A5 booklet. (148mm x 210mm approx). For clients who just want to simply list the format the service or ceremony will take alternative solutions can be found.

As with the invitations you can have the embellishments on your stationery or select a coordinating alternative.

We are happy to undertake any copyright permission searches regarding hymns on your behalf for a small charge. Please do be aware that some music publishers will require a licence fee for reproducing the words to some popular hymns or songs.

Individual cards with your chosen readings or poems can be produced for your readers.

Menus

Our double-sided 'tent-fold' menus with an elegant central hand-tied bow are extremely popular allowing viewing from both sides. Swarovski crystal diamantes punctuate the courses and the coordinating embellishments adorn each side.

An alternative more traditional 'greeting card' style of menu is available with or without embellishments.

Place Cards

For the ultimate indulgence each printed place card can be embellished with your chosen design. For simple elegance place cards can be printed with your guests' names and embellished with single Swarovski crystal diamante or for simple and stylish beautifully printed.

Table Number/Name Cards

Our double-sided table number/name cards are prepared for table clips (your venue may have these) or to be free-standing on the table. They look fabulous with the handmade embellishments or they look equally beautiful simply printed and adorned with Swarovski crystals.
